Motivation, “the root of success”.

Yes, if one wants to achieve success is necessary for him/her to get frequently medicine of motivation that means he/she should be motivated through seminars and motivational speeches. To grow a plant watering is required frequently and repeatedly on time. Likewise for becoming a successful person it becomes necessary to get motivated from time to time.

HOW TO GET MOTIVATED?

Some query arises in the mind of every student that how to get motivated, what is need for motivation? Is the motivation necessary to achieve success?

Causes of demotivation, many other questions so let us discuss each and every query precisely and genuinely.

Firstly, we should talk about the ways how to get motivated.

Obviously, there are a lot of ways to get motivated but certain path of which students have to follow like listening to the lecture of teachers. The duty of a student is not only learn the things related to the subject but also concentrate on the motivational speech and lecture which is given by the teachers which play a vital role in maintaining continuity and concentrate on studying.

THE MELANGE OF SUCCESS

Teachers or professors also teach you the way of living life in society. So be connected with the teacher and earn knowledge from their experience, apart from the subject related. Another way to remain motivated is to listen to the speech of great anchor, advisors like Arnav Gwaswami, Sandeep Maheshwari, and Chanakya.

Go through the stories of success of great leaders like Narendra Modi, APJ Abdul Kalam, and Swami Vivekanand while going through them note down the things which they used to follow and move through them smoothly.

Chanakya, the great philosopher written Arthsastra which tells us a lot about real life. And the teaching of Chanakya inspired us a lot.

“The thing which differentiates you among the other student is that near about 80% used to listen and read them but at the time of implementation they lose their patience. All these things which motivated us should be read and listen frequently.”

LIVE WITH POSITIVE ATTITUDE

Apart from it, you must also create your atmosphere like that you should always inspire which can be achieved by behaving with a positive attitude and stand in such a friend circle which always appreciates you and improve your mistakes if any. The negative attitude can only and only destroy you even the negative thinking before time is great foolishness so be confident, motivated, innovative, inspired with a smile on the face. This is how a person accepts defeat even before giving a fight.

NEED OF MOTIVATION

Now secondly talk about what is the need for motivation?

There are a lot of things by which we get irritated and frustrated after doing the same work daily, frequently not getting success in particular work, destruction by girls for boys and vice versa.

Not satisfied with our results, the pressure of exams and many other reasons due to which we get demotivated.

To overcome such a mental disaster factor we have to take the medicine of motivation by the following path as discussed previously. If a person is not getting motivated frequently then definitely he/she might be dejected and try to quit the task but forget how much nearer to the success they reached, their small effort may bring them at the peak of success.

Many students always remain unhappy and not satisfied with what they are doing and worried about the future result but need it that one should be undoubted and focus only and only at present deeds to live with great happiness.

THE MELANGE OF SUCCESS

One should collect the experience from the past and imply on present and free from future leave it on fortune. One should always ready to exits in every condition of the environment and weather. Either for or against, try to adopt it, more frequently you adopt faster you continued with your Job efficiently.

HOW YOUR THINKING DECIDES YOUR LUCK

There must be politeness and happiness in your nature, your way of thinking develop attitude. Your talking becomes habits, habits develop your deeds, and deeds evolve your character where character constitutes your luck / fortune.

One more thing doesn't miss the seminar, during the seminar they used to think you different aspects of the study and give information about the different college universities and courses with respect to the subject of the seminar. Not only motivate you in different ways like sharing the experience of achieving the goal by students who got success previously but also give you the confidence to believe within you.

The only thing is that we have to still learn, "way of grasping the things for a long time," what is the right approach for a particular topic to understand well. Many students think that it is just a waste of time to attend the seminar but with believe one should not only learn subjective knowledge from the seminar but it tells us to see the act of representation of things by some personality. Be happy with what is in your hands and make some endeavor you will get something. If luck is with you might be getting "more than something" what you deserve.

But in this cosmos no one got everything so if you want to get something they don't be foolish of getting "everything".

Undoubted each and every person got demotivated during their course of life but one has the presence of mind and deeds the problems is the well-recognized way they definitely achieve success. Even after getting success they keep on struggling further for new success and continue their deeds with the taste of new success.
